District Officer To Address Local Kiwanis Club

Lieutenant Governor James Parish of the 12th Kiwanis District will speak to the Campbell Kiwanis Club next Tuesday at their regular luncheon meeting in the Campbell Country Woman's clubhouse. His subject will be the recent Kiwanis International convention at Atlantic City.

At this week's meeting, Stewart C. Ralston, assistant to the district manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, of San Jose, was introduced by Chairman Budd Levenberg. Mr. Ralston, who discussed the change-over to dial system in San Jose, said next Sunday, August 28, will mark the beginning of one of the largest attempts by the phone company to change over from a manual to dial telephone system. It is the culmination of a three-and-one-half year program by the company, and the actual change-over will be accomplished within 20 seconds.

From a technical standpoint, Ralston explained, this type of installation in San Jose and vicinity is a change from the simplest to the most complex system now in existence. The new equipment will enable San Jose operators to dial directly to over 300 large cities in the United States, thus reducing the time previously consumed in making inter-city connections.

Using a large dial model, the speaker demonstrated proper use of the new dial phone equipment.

Heretofore the biggest bottleneck in telephone installation has been the lead content of cable necessary for the work. A plastic substitute has been developed for this use and the company is now able to give faster and better service.

Visitors at the Kiwanis meeting were Cecil Hardesty, Cliff Swanson and Al Colombo, all of San Jose; John Harder of Orosi and Ray Fisher of Los Gatos.

Power Pole Up; Six Light Poles Ready At Field

Receipt of $100 from the Campbell Coordinating Council this week boosted the softball field lighting fund to $2289.93. Mrs. Mary Grey, chairman of the fund committee of the sponsoring Campbell Business and Professional Woman's Club, said volunteer workers have been busy assembling cross arms and other equipment on the six light poles which the Pacific Gas and Electric Company is expected to install the first part of next week.

The power pole was erected yesterday on the Campbell Grammar School softball field after the light poles are installed, the remaining work will be completed within a short time, she said. "We do hope to have at least one night game on the field before the season is over."

"Hi! Neighbor! Come to the Fair!" says pretty Miss Santa Clara County beauty queen Mary Cozans. The queen posed with the friendly symbol of the Fair, the six foot Cherry Farmers, which will be distributed during the next few weeks to banks, stores and offices throughout the entire county. They'll be displayed as a personal reminder and invitation for all to attend the Santa Clara County Fair September 12-18, 1949.

TED SOLARI HEADS MERCHANT'S GROUP ON AUTO PROMOTION ARRANGEMENTS

Twenty-four Campbell merchants have signed up as guarantors, at $75 each, for the trade-at-home campaign to be launched next week. Each of the 24 will contribute his $75 toward purchase price of a new automobile to be given away during Christmas week.

According to the program, as adopted Monday evening at a meeting of the participating businessmen, the 24 will underwrite the cost of the automobile. Any and all other Campbell merchants may enter the campaign through an initial contribution of $25, entitling him to 5000 tickets. Additional tickets may be purchased in multiples of 1000 at $5 per 1000.

Five of the original 24 merchants were named Monday night to serve as an advertising and automobile committee. They are now at work determining type of car to be purchased and where it will be purchased. They are also planning the promotion program to be conducted in advance of the car award.

Ted Solari, of the T.N.T. Variety Store, is chairman of the committee, and those serving with him are Anton Poley, Cheerio Corners Market; Helen DeRose, Helen's Juvenile Shop; Fred Jones, Jones Chevrolet Service; and Tom Burnett of Burnett's Appliance Store.

Purpose of the campaign is to develop closer business relations between home town merchant and the resident shopper, and to further benefit the local community through unified community endeavor.

Postmaster Ira Grim Urges Adoption Of County Rural Numbering Plan

Campbell Postmaster Ira H. Grim was among postmasters and County Fire District representatives supporting the proposed house numbering plan for the county rural area which was discussed on Wednesday by 23 postmasters, fire chiefs and other officials at a meeting in San Jose.

Grim, who recently completed a two-year task of laying out the Campbell mail district by city blocks, urged early adoption of the plan. It would not affect the main Campbell section, nor other potentially incorporated areas in the county.

In reporting on the meeting, Campbell's postmaster said the present numbering system would be kept in the present incorporated and potential incorporated areas, though outlying districts may be changed. "If the proposal is adopted, it will be a tremendous undertaking and will take about two years to complete," said Grim.

County fire fighters were some of the principal backers of the plan. Central Fire District Chief Henry Lingua described the present system of duplicated street names and scattered numbering as a "mad jumble," and cited instances when his men were called to answer fires only to find out the blaze was on another street of the same name in another part of the county.

Service Fund Group Meeting Slated Sept. 5

Almost all the chairmen have been selected to represent the various school districts in the coming Campbell Community Service Fund drive expected to start late in September. Mrs. J. W. Knowles, drive chairman, announced this week. Representatives of each benefiting organization met Tuesday with the committee at the office of Laurence J. Hill, Service Fund committee president.

Next organization meeting will be Tuesday September 5 at 8 p.m. in Campbell High School little theater, at which time responsible heads of the benefiting organizations, school district chairmen and the executive committee will formulate definite plans for the drive which will seek a quota of $7800.

Each participating organization is expected to furnish solicitors according to amount to be received from the drive receipts. They will be assisted by various service clubs in the Campbell community.

Rotarians View State Film On Rainbow Trout

Members of the Campbell Rotary Club, visiting Rotarians, and guests, last Monday were privileged to see a film entitled "California's Rainbows," an educational feature of the California Division of Fish and Game. The film and accompanying talk were presented by Mr. W. H. Bostwick, chairman of the educational section of the division.

Mr. Bostwick, through the film, revealed the work being done today by the state to propagate trout and stock them in the lakes, streams and rivers throughout the state.

The film opened with the taking of mature eggs from the female, and carried the topic through incubation, early growth, feeding, and habits to the final step of stocking them in their natural habitat.

An interesting sidelight revealed by Mr. Bostwick is the fact that in the year 1948 only 21 lakes in the high Sierras were stocked, at a cost of $5000. In many cases the small "fingerlings," as they are called, had to be packed in by mules for hundreds of miles. This year, over 50 lakes were stocked with infinitely more fish by airplane, at a cost of less than $500.

Mr. Bostwick emphasized the point that all this work is done entirely through the funds collected by the sale of fishing and hunting licenses, and that all amateur sportsmen are "stockholders" in the wildlife in the state—that it is up to these shareholders to preserve and protect and propagate our natural wild life of the state.

At the meeting next Monday of the Rotary Club, Mr. Bill Williams, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph of San Jose, will discuss the changeover in the area to the dial system. San Jose, according to Mr. Williams, is the largest area in the world still operating on the manual system, and the coming changeover will be the largest and most wide-scale in the world.

Extended Service Subscribers May Dial San Jose

Direct dialing from Campbell extended service telephones to San Jose and Santa Clara will go into operation this coming Sunday, it was announced today by W. E. Williams, district manager for the telephone company.

"Under the new system, to call San Jose and Santa Clara from extended service telephones dial '7'. After hearing the dial tone again, dial the first two letters and numeral in the central office name followed by the remaining four figures in the new number shown in your August 28 directory," Williams explained.

From telephones without extended service, calls to San Jose and Santa Clara should be placed with operator as in the past.

Instructions on the new method of calling have been mailed to all extended service subscribers. Complete information is also included in the introductory pages of the new telephone directory, Williams said.

Williams reminded telephone users that beginning Sunday they should consult the new August 28 directory before placing all calls to San Jose and Santa Clara. Present Ballard, Columbia, Mayfair and Santa Clara numbers will be discontinued and new numbers including central office names will become effective when the new dial system for San Jose and Santa Clara goes into operation on Sunday.

REPORT

August 26, 1949
J. M. Dahl,
President
Campbell Chamber of Commerce
Campbell, California

The undersigned Merchant Patrol Committee herewith submits its final report and recommendations.

This committee was appointed by the then president of the Chamber of Commerce, Laurence J. Hill, on April 25, 1949. Authority for the formation of the committee and the appointment of its members was derived from a mail vote of merchants in the Campbell area who voted 33 to 6 in favor of the Chamber of Commerce continuing to sponsor a merchant patrol service for our community. This vote was reported to the Chamber on April 25, 1949.

At the time of the formation of this committee considerable discussion was had concerning the extent and scope of the powers and authority to be exercised by it. The various motions made at that time culminated in the Chamber delegating full, complete and final authority to this committee in connection with its duties as prescribed therein and the promise by the assembled members that they would support the committee's choice without exception. Your committee has taken these directives and declarations of support at their face value and have made their decision and render this report, on the assumption that this authority is still ours to exercise. In this connection we refer yourself and the members of the Chamber of Commerce to the minutes of the regular meeting of the Chamber, dated April 25, 1949.

Since its appointment this committee has had twelve meetings of (Continued on Page Five)

Mrs. Mahoney gave a detailed account of the organization of the first BPW group in 1919 at a convention attended by 212 delegates. The national organization now numbers 147,000 members.

This is the only women's club in the United States, she said, which includes women from all types of businesses and professions without discrimination as to religious or political beliefs. The Business and Professional Women's national group is the largest woman's organization in the country today, she told the group.

Objectives of the organization are threefold: to improve conditions for women workers, to extend opportunities for women in the business field, and prepare the members for leadership in the community and nation. The national organizational setup is modeled after the local clubs.

In conclusion, Mrs. Mahoney told members of various programs to increase interest at meetings.

Are you a keen judge of people?

Which are the largest P. G. and E. stockholders?

Here are a housewife, a president of a corporation, a clerk, a manufacturer, flagmaker, wrestler and a teacher. Each one owns stock in P. G. and E. Who owns the most?

How did you choose? Well, here are the facts: Housewives own the most. Teachers are next; then laborers, then manufacturers. And you probably didn't guess that the wrestler owns almost as much as the corporation president.

The figures are from a study of 4300 people who invested their savings in one particular P. G. and E. stock some years ago. They are typical and illustrative rather than actual. They show that in the final analysis—all are "Capitalists"!

No one individual owns as much as 1% of P. G. and E. stock. Actually, we're owned by the 154,300 stockholders who've invested their savings in our company.

These invested savings, plus sound management, have enabled P. G. and E. to provide gas and electricity at rates among the lowest in the nation.

FOR THE RECORD

P. G. and E. stock is among the most widely held in the U. S. This is an example of why "Big Business" is everybody's business—teamwork between the public, management and employees.

Work never stops on our power building program.

Renting a skiff from the row-boat rental outfit on the concrete ship at Sealife paid off for Lucas Cardenas and George Rodriguez, local fishermen recently. The boys returned home with a catch of lingcod, red snapper, bluefish, flounder, jacksmelt and kingfish. One ling caught by Cardenas weighed ten pounds; Rodriguez boated a five pound snapper and a three pound flounder. According to Cardenas a 22-pound ling was brought in by a fisherman trying his luck from a skiff in the same area recently.

Mussel Pismo, our clam-digger Indian guide, hitch-hiked into Campbell the other day with news that he had been pow-wowing with a member of the Fish and Game division. (I can always tell when Pismo deserts his diggings down along the seashore and treks inland towards the tall timber ... due to his knack of making friends with the wildlife population, Pismo never fails to have some type of wild animal or fowl dogging his footsteps ... this time he had a bear behind ...). The highlight of his confab centered around the following: "Noon, Thursday, September 1st, marks the opening of California's month long mourning dove hunting season ... bag and possession limit is ten birds ... the ol' shotgun must be plugged to hold not more than three shells ... after the noon opening of the first day, shooting hours will be from 1-hour before sunrise to sunset." Before taking leave of Campbell, Pismo remarked that he left home with twenty bucks to hunt one and ended up with none.

The kingfish, a member of the croaker family, is often thumped a stunning blow over the noggin and thrown back into the water by some fishermen claiming that the kingfish is worthless due to a high iodine flavor when cooked. On the other hand, veteran anglers state that an iodine gland exists in the region of the base of the pectoral fin, and if removed before cooking will eliminate a certain amount of the iodine flavor.

Git th' gaff! In the near future we hope to receive documentary proof in the form of a snapshot from Mary Francis Carter proving her claim that the huge black bass in Reelfoot Lake, Tenn., are so voracious that she is forced to hide behind a cypress stump to bait a hook ... Mary is a fisherwoman who uses light tackle on saltwater fish. Several years ago she angled for tarpon in Florida waters with a black bass rig.

In the Santa Cruz-Monterey area we learn that the month of June produced the following tally for the ocean anglers: 23,310 rockfish; 7730 kingfish; 4120 sole, flounder and sandbars; 3540 lingcod; 4970 other species ... The San Francisco Tye Club has tagged 39 salmon with secret numbers that will bring lucky anglers a reward of from five to fifty bucks for sending in a tag from one of these fish. We might add that a $1.00 reward tag also is paid to anglers sending the circular tag to the Division of Fish and Game, Ferry Building, San Francisco, giving date and location of catch, length and weight of fish. The returned tags enable State biologists to study migration, growth, cycles and other habits of the king and silverside salmon. (Thass all ...).

Western Gravel Wins District ASA Title 2-1

Western Gravel softball team downed the Sunnyvale Merchants Sunday night before a capacity crowd, taking a 2-1 victory of their opponents and winning the San Jose ASA District Championship. The victorious team will represent this district in the State and Regional ASA Tournament starting Friday, September 2, in San Mateo.

Although the Sunnyvale team was favored to win the meet, only one of its batters reached first base and scored a run. Western Gravel scored its two runs in the seventh inning. Pitcher Bud Bosque and left fielder Art Le Deit did the scoring. Catcher Cliff Martinez scored for Sunnyvale.

Mrs. Hattie A. Baugh Dies at 77; Was Active In Methodist Church

Final services were conducted Wednesday at 4 p.m. from the Campbell Methodist Church for Mrs. Hattie A. Baugh, resident of Campbell for the past 31 years, who passed away Monday following an illness of over a year. She was 77 years of age at the time of her death. She would have observed her 78th birthday in October.

A native of Truckee, California, Mrs. Baugh and her husband, the late Arthur Elwood Baugh, came here from Orland after Mr. Baugh retired from the teaching profession and serving as high school principal for schools in various parts of the state. Mrs. Baugh had been living at her home on N. Second Street. She was formerly active in the Campbell Country Woman's Club and in the Women's Society of the Campbell Methodist Church.

The Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne of the Campbell Methodist Church officiated at the funeral service. Interment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Mrs. Baugh is survived by her daughters, Mrs. Bernice Lillingsworth of Campbell; Mrs. Helen Wells of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Janice Bohnett of San Jose; a son, Clive E. Baugh of Berkeley; five grandchildren, Mrs. Patricia McCullough of Madera, Miss Nancy Baugh of Berkeley, Miss Diane Wells of Los Angeles, Gordon Baugh and Miss Eva Mae Baugh of Cannon Beach, Oregon. The two latter grandchildren were the son and daughter of the late Elwood Baugh, killed in an accident some years ago.

Old Gas Stove Roundup Time

Do you still ride in a horse and carriage? —still wear hoopskirts? —certainly not! But these outdated things are no more ridiculous to modern life than cooking on an outdated stove.

Join the millions of smart women who have added hours to each day by entrusting their meals to a gas range. Accardi's in Campbell is cooperating in the drive.

The Old Stove Round-up offers prizes too—$10,000 in cash prizes to be given in a wonderful big contest in Northern California only. Any Gas Range dealer will give you all the information on how to win one of the many big cash prizes, so see him today. It's easy—you have as good a chance as anyone — and only residents of Northern California are eligible, so this is really your contest.

Lax Supervision Permits Under-Age Pension Problem

Starting with zero at the beginning of January, 1949, by June 233 people under 65 years of age were getting aid under "old age security" in Santa Clara county, California Taxpayers' association reported today, analyzing the consequences of the loose provisions and lax administration of California's present law regarding aid to the needy aged.

The 233 people under 65, together with 5448 over 65, make up the 5701 aged aid case roll for the county for June, 1949, the association said. Average aid for June was $70.55, total payments for the one month in the county reaching $402,211.

In December, 1948, there were 4524 people in the county receiving aid as needy aged, the average payment of $60.38 per person making a total payment to the aged in the county of $273,180 for that month.

Over the state as a whole, 13,222 people under 65 were getting old age aid in June, 1949. With 232,072 people over 65, the total old age aid case load for June reached 245,294.

At an average payment of $70.55 per person during June, total payments to the aged alone amounted to $17,306,073 for the one month in California. For December, 1948, with average payments of $61.16, the 198,301 people on the rolls received $12,127,399.

"Spiraling costs of aid to the aged in California can be blamed on the present provisions of the state constitution and the present state administrative setup," the association said.

Dr. C. L. Avery Wills Her Eyes To The Blind

Dr. Caroline L. Avery, 84, for many years a prominent San Jose physician, died early Wednesday at a San Jose rest home. She was the aunt of Mr. Harold Herbert of Campbell.

Shortly before her death, Dr. Avery expressed the wish that the corneas of her eyes be taken to the eye bank at Stanford Lane Hospital, San Francisco. Her wish was carried out, and the corneas have been transplanted to give sight to two blind persons.

Dr. Avery was born in Contra Costa county, the daughter of the Rev. Henry Avery who came to California in 1851 as a Presbyterian missionary. She became one of the first women physicians to practice in California, following graduation in 1897 from Cooper Medical College (now Stanford University Medical School) in San Francisco, and internship at San Francisco Children's Hospital. She had practiced in San Jose for 50 years, retiring in 1948.

Funeral services were conducted this morning at 10 o'clock from the chapel of John E. Dowdle Mortuary. Private inurnment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Dr. Avery is survived by her nephew, Mr. Herbert; a niece, Hazel Avery of San Francisco; a great-nephew, Dr. George Herbert of San Jose.

Private funeral services were conducted Tuesday from the Place Funeral Home, Los Gatos.

When you call the family taxi, need a telephone for any reason, have you noticed one always seems handy?

"Come get us, daddy, the movie's over"

1. It doesn't just happen there's a public telephone not far away when you look for it. Locations have been carefully selected to make sure service is where it's needed most... in theatres, filling stations, drug stores, terminals. And special installations are often made to meet the needs of crowds—at conventions, fairs and the like. Today there are some 85,000 public telephones at work in the West.

2. More errands run, more jobs done, more time saved for you... telephone service has many duties. And public telephones make service still more valuable by putting all telephones, both residence and business, within convenient reach... no matter where you may be. More and more are going in, too... as we keep pushing our job of furnishing good, well-rounded telephone service to the West.

Bronzich-Locke Partnership Awarded Campbell Merchant Patrol Contract

The whole, in addition, the several individual members have at other times conferred with various authorities and persons who could give to us the information and assistance that we required. This would then be reported on and discussed at a regular committee meeting. Each and every decision made by this committee has been an unanimous one, rendered by the full membership hereof.

The committee has seen its objective to be the selection of a merchant patrolman for the purpose of affording the commercial area of Campbell a merchant patrol service, and the formulation of an efficient, businesslike plan for administering this service. No attempt has been made, nor is one made herein, to establish or set up police protection, as such, for the citizens of Campbell. This is not the function of this committee, the patrol service selected, or the Chamber of Commerce. It does not behoove the people of Campbell to complain of a situation that they, and they alone, can remedy. The patrol service is paid for by the merchants and is for the benefit of the merchants, and is authorized to act only for the merchants. Any other services thereby performed is solely incidental to this declared purpose.

The committee has also attempted to acquaint itself with the history of the merchant patrol service in Campbell. In this connection it was determined that three factors contributed most to past, unsatisfactory service: untrained personnel, lack of administration and supervision, and failure of merchants to participate in sufficient numbers to provide a fair, decent wage for the particular patrolman. Your committee feels that in their present selection they have obtained the highest qualified, trained men available to us. We believe that our working agreement with him, together with the various recommendations that we make herein will result in an orderly, efficient rendering of the services provided for, to the ultimate benefit of the Campbell merchants. With respect to the third factor only these same merchants can supply the answer. We feel that the Chamber and its members must accept and renew their pledge of unqualified support to our choice, and you must do all in your power to cause the same acceptance by the non-member merchants of our town.

The committee first gave its attention to the question of what we should look for and expect in a merchant patrolman. In this connection information was obtained from, and interviews had with the following: James A. Arnerich, Director of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, State of California, with direct supervision over the California Detective License Bureau; Santa Clara County Sheriff's office; Santa Clara County District Attorney's office; San Jose Merchant's Association; various city and public officials of the several communities in our area.

It was early determined that your committee would select only a patrolman or patrol service operating under a state license. Recent legislation and information received indicated that a more strict enforcement of the law in this respect is probable in the future and our merchants cannot afford to hire an unlicensed operator if such occurs. Other desirable qualities were that he be trained, that he have experience, that he be young and healthy, that he have certain minimum mechanical equipment, that his morals and his record be impeccable and that he have a pleasing personality.

Surprisingly enough the committee found that the bulk of its work was in developing this norm or standard. Once we knew what we were looking for the job became easier. Following the establishment of our basic requirements applications were asked for and received. Publicity was given by the Campbell Press, San Jose Mercury Herald and San Jose Evening News. Twenty-two written applications were received. These were carefully screened and seventeen were rejected or were voluntarily withdrawn. The remaining five applicants were asked to attend oral interviews, and four responded. After these interviews the committee met twice before arriving at their final decision.

The unanimous choice of your committee for the position of Campbell merchant patrolman, and the one entitled to your support and sponsorship is Robert J. Locke, one of the operating partners of the Private Police Patrol, with local headquarters at 446 Casey Road, Campbell, California. Locke is 28 years of age and is a resident of Campbell. He is married and has three children. He has been engaged in this type of work in this area for the past two years and before that was attached to Military Police and Counter Intelligence in the future.

Army. He is physically well and fit, and our investigation of his background and past record reveals no flaws therein. He is pleasant and likeable, but with a definite police temperament and attitude. His patrol service is licensed by the State of California with all the attendant safeguards to the participating merchants, as well as being deputized by the Sheriff of Santa Clara County. He furnishes a car equipped with mobile telephone as well as short-wave radio, and is uniformed.

Mr. Locke has been selected and will operate under the terms and provisions of the agreement submitted herewith. It is believed that this agreement will prove satisfactory to both Locke and the participating merchants. To summarize, the agreement establishes a schedule of fees that we believe are fair and just to all concerned. Sufficient flexibility is contemplated to permit unusual or unique problems to be individually solved, but the basic idea is that there shall be as much uniformity as possible. Hours are prescribed and minimum services outlined. Equipment is also specified. Service to private residences is permitted only on approval.

It is obvious that this agreement contemplates and assumes continued administration and supervision of the patrol service by the Chamber of Commerce. In this connection the committee recommends that the Chamber Constitution and Bylaws be amended so as to provide for the Merchant Patrol committee of five members as a standing committee of the Chamber. It is our further recommendation that the personnel of that committee be changed as to two persons on even-numbered years, and three persons on odd-numbered years. It is our further recommendation that the present members of this committee be immediately relieved from their positions and their duties hereunder.

We recommend that the merchants and the patrolman be encouraged to settle their differences and their grievances through the offices of this committee, and that this committee be empowered to so act.

Your committee feels that a full and complete solution of our problems may perhaps not be found in our work. But we also feel that there has been created a framework about which can be built a satisfactory relationship between patrolman and merchant. In this respect we can only ask for the unqualified cooperation of all concerned in the future.

Respectfully submitted,
MERCHANT PATROL COMMITTEE CAMPBELL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

L. E. MEANS, Chairman.

AGREEMENT
(Ed. note: The agreement is full and complete, with necessary legal terminology. It is printed in part here, just the essential parts being listed.)

"NOW, THEREFORE, this agreement made and entered into by and between the Merchant Patrol Committee, Campbell Chamber of Commerce, hereinafter known as first party, and C. J. Bronzich and Robert J. Locke, doing business as Private Police Patrol, hereinafter known as second party, on this 26th day of August, 1949.

"For and in consideration of the selection of second party by first party, and the mutual conditions, covenants and agreements herein contained, second party hereby agrees to furnish a merchant patrol service to the merchants, commercial and professional establishments, offices and places of business within the Campbell area, roughly bounded by Winchester Road, Kennedy Avenue, San Jose-Los Gatos Road, and Hamilton Avenue, upon the following terms and conditions:

1. The area is to be patrolled from 8:00 p.m. to 5:00 a.m. daily.
2. Minimum service — four door shakes, night light check.
3. Patrol service rendered only to merchants subscribing and paying scheduled fees.
4. Equipment supplied: Car, gas, oil, repairs, mobile telephone, radio, etc.
5. California State Detective License and deputization by the County Sheriff maintained at all times by second party.
6. Second party agrees to abide by and to collect no fees in excess of, or less than, the following schedule of rates:
 - (a) Ordinary merchandising, commercial or professional establishment—one door, $3.00 monthly.

 - (f) Awning service — 75c per month.

per month, subject to prior approval of first party as to location.

Second party agrees to collect said fees, and no others, from the participating or subscribing merchants, for its own account, and at its own expense, and first party shall in no way be liable for fees not collected.

7. Second party shall render a bi-monthly report to first party of all its gross revenue and its list of participating merchants, or at any time upon request.

8. Second party shall assign Robert J. Locke to this area, and he shall serve herein at all times to the fullest extent possible. It is agreed that when the total gross revenue obtained from the Campbell area is $300.00 or more per month, said Locke will remain at all times within this area during patrol hours. Prior to said gross revenue reaching the sum of $300.00 or more per month, Locke will remain at all times within this area and may leave said area thereafter once each night for a period not to exceed one-half hour.

9. Second party agrees to submit any disputed differences or grievances arising between itself and individual participating merchants, to first party for arbitration and settlement.

In consideration of the foregoing first party agrees to sponsor second party and its patrol service within the said Campbell area. In this connection first party agrees to exert its utmost efforts to obtain participation by all eligible commercial establishments, and to do everything within its power to secure satisfactory relationships between the second party and said merchants.

Cold oil will not flow readily and therefore has a tendency to leave a greater amount of sludge and other foreign matter in the engine than would normally be removed by the heated oil.

Anderson Says Cooperation Vital To Water Survey

Passage of American River Legislation is the only means of speeding up the study of water needs in Santa Clara, San Benito, and other coastal counties by the Bureau of Reclamation. That is the word received by Congressman Jack Z. Anderson from the Bureau, Region II, at Sacramento.

In answer to Anderson's request for information on the progress of plans to transfer water from the Central Valley to Santa Clara and San Benito Counties, the Bureau of Reclamation Regional Director, Phil Dickinson, said passage of the American River Bill now held up in the Senate was necessary to push the water studies and provide funds.

According to Dickinson, the Bureau is proceeding under general authority, with a study of water needs in San Benito county, and is analyzing the extent to which Santa Clara county has developed its own water sources. Anderson had pointed out that Santa Clara county was proceeding with construction of two large conservation dams which would exhaust the major possible resources of the valley.

Another complicating factor in plans to bring Central Valley water into this region is the "competition between Central Valley and the coastal counties for the waters of the Central Valley," Dickinson declared.

Commenting on the Director's statement, Anderson declared, "The close cooperation of interested and authoritative citizens of both the inland and coastal counties will overcome this competition."

Coyne Sentenced On Manslaughter Plea Of Guilty

William Coyne, 41, withdrew his plea of not guilty to the murder of his brother, Raymond Coyne,

27, when the convicted slayer appeared before Judge M. G. Del

Mutolo Friday in San Jose.

Coyne, who was convicted last year of first degree murder in connection with slaying of his brother in a Monte Vista tavern brawl December 19, 1947, was returned to San Jose from Folsom prison where he had begun serving his sentence, after the State

Appellate Court set aside the conviction on technical grounds. He was remanded to San Jose Superior Court to stand retrial, and withdraw his not guilty plea when arraigned before Judge Del Mutolo last week. Coyne pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of manslaughter, and was committed to San Quentin Prison to serve a term of from one to ten years.

His attorney, David M. Lull, and District Attorney N. J. Menard compromised on the lesser charge rather than conduct a second murder trial.

Almaden Pupils Still Eligible For Campbell High

Almaden students planning to enter the Campbell Union High School freshman class this fall may register at the school the week before school opens, if they failed to register during the special period held last week at the

tendent, has announced. Hill said tentative date for opening of the school is September 18, but the actual date depends on the prune crop.

Last year, due to the cost of educating the Almaden District pupils, the Campbell High School board resolved not to operate the school buses to the Almaden district, Hill commented, but recent passage of a state law permits the school to charge for this service, and the buses will run again this year. The state bill requires the district to pay for the cost of educating its youngsters through a special high school tuition tax.

Hill said the school bus service to Almaden is a 47-mile round trip and the cost of the transportation plus $100 per pupil for schooling meant a loss of about $10,000 a year to the Campbell district. "It meant that we would have had to cut down services to pupils of our own district in order to balance the budget." 30 or 40 incoming pupils from the Almaden district are expected this year, with an estimated total registration from there of about 110. The number from the district has been increasing each year.

"We registered all the Almaden youngsters already in school here last year, but told them we would not furnish transportation. In addition, we said we would not take any more pupils from the district, but there was no other high school open to them," Hill explained.

Last year Almaden voted unanimously against joining the Campbell High School district, and this left its students out on a limb. Passage of the tax law has cleared up the difficulty.

Hypnotism Show Delights Jaycees At Dinner Meet

Campbell Jaycees and their wives were treated to an interesting exhibition of hypnotism and legdermain by Richard Charles, magician, at their barbecue meeting Wednesday, Aug. 17 at the C.

F. Livingston home.

Charles, a Campbell man, presented a fine, professional level show, and was assisted by four

hypnotism program. Each of the four who permitted themselves to be hypnotized by the performer, also turned in a good show.

During the evening members discussed their youth welfare program. On the subject of a proposed Christmas party for the community, the group agreed that due to the youth of the organization and its financial status it would be impracticable to sponsor a Christmas party this year.

Next on the Junior chamber calendar is a business meeting, Wednesday, September 7, at the Casanova Club on Almaden Road. Dinner will be served promptly at 7:30 p.m.

THE FARMER'S CORNERBy RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

Perhaps none of the bitted battles that have attended the U. S. Reclamation Bureau's development of the Central Valley Water Project have been less clearly understood than the controversy over what is described as the "power interest component." To understand the arguments that have raged before Congressional committees on this rather technical subject, it is necessary first to have an understanding of Federal bookkeeping as applied to "multiple-purpose" projects like Central Valley.

In any such project, the Federal Government attempts to compute the proportion of its total investment allocable to each phase: so much for flood control, so much for irrigation, and so much for power.

Because flood control produces no tangible revenue, the cost of that part of the project has been considered a direct Government expenditure in the public interest that need not be repaid.

Irrigation water, on the other hand, is sold, and the cost of providing it can theoretically be repaid to the Government by the water users. But in order to keep water rates at a level farmers can afford to pay (otherwise there would be little point in developing the water at all) the Government may require that only a portion of the irrigation construction costs be repaid directly by the users.

Suppose, for example, that the Government's investment in the irrigation features of a project amount to 100 million dollars. It may be determined that water users can be expected to repay only 40 million dollars of that amount. In that event, the remaining 60 million dollars is arbitrarily charged against the power phases of the project.

In this same hypothetical example, the actual cost of construction allocable to power might be 80 million dollars. From the sale of power, then, the Government would be repaid its investment in power of 80 million dollars, plus 60 million dollars of its investment in irrigation.

Such an arrangement is manifestly fair where power is, as in the case of the Central Valley, merely a by-product of the project. But here a conflict arises—a conflict in ideologies. For the Government planners are passionately committed to the cause of so-called "cheap" public power. It is their aim to keep public power rates as low as possible, in order to undercut the rates charged for privately developed, tax-paying power—even though the interest of American taxpayers obviously would best be served by liquidating the cost of the project as quickly as possible by selling power at the highest rates obtainable.

Under the law, the investment in multiple-purpose projects directly attributable to power bears interest at 3 per cent. Instead of making interest payments to the U. S. Treasury (and thus reducing the general tax burden) the Reclamation Bureau turns them over to the Reclamation Fund. The yearly amount of such payments is the so-called "power interest component."

Plowing in the interest money in this way is one method of establishing low rates for public power. A Hoover Commission task force, after an exhaustive study of Reclamation Bureau accounting procedures, strongly condemned the practice. The task force recommended that rates for the sale of power from the Central Valley and similar projects be sufficient to pay interest not just on the power portion of construction costs (the power interest component) but also on the portion of irrigation construction costs assumed by the power.

The Hoover task force also recommended that a fixed period of years be determined upon for repayment to the Government from power sales not only its investment in the power phases of multiple-purpose projects, but the irrigation investment assumed by power, and the investment in the flood control and navigation phases, as well.

It would be of enormous benefit to the taxpayers if those recommendations were followed. They were not, however, received with favor by Reclamation Bureau officials and public power enthusiasts. The Hoover Report was criticized in these words:

"To analyze public water and power projects from a business point of view is to ignore the vital function which they play in providing navigation and flood control, opening up vast areas for settlement by increased population, and strengthening the country both from the economic and military point of view."

That specious criticism seems tantamount to saying that a proper accounting of Government ex-

Services Held For Marguerite Nitti, Native Of France

Mrs. Marguerite Costabel Nitti, native of Nice, France and mother of Miss Violette Costabel and Mrs. Yvonne Binley, 57 S. Milton Avenue, Campbell, died Tuesday in Campbell. Funeral services were conducted yesterday at 10 a.m. from the chapel of the John E. Dowdle Mortuary, followed by interment at Santa Clara Cemetery.

Besides her two daughters in Campbell, Mrs. Nitti is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Barbara Miller of San Jose; her brother, Charles Plavan of Menlo Park, and grandchildren Philip and Nancy Binley of Campbell, and Robert Gordon Miller of San Jose.

Mrs. Nitti came here 45 years ago from her native France.

Funeral Held For Leon L. Merrill

Leon L. Merrill, 77, member of Morning Light Lodge, IOOF, of Campbell, died August 17 in Los Gatos. Funeral services were conducted Saturday, August 20, at 10 a.m., from the Chapel of the Roses. Interment was at Oak Hill Memorial Park.

Mr. Merrill, who was also a member of Orchard City Grange, was a native of Maine. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bessie Merrill of Campbell.

penditures is against the general welfare!

The Central Valley Water Project was designed to fill a function vital to California's continued prosperity. It is hard to understand why a proper accounting of the huge funds expended in its construction would be anything but in the public interest.
